Board approves school calendar

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
An extra day of school is slated for Hancock County School District students next year.

Monday the board of trustees approved the 1984-85 school calendar, calling for 177 student days and 182 teacher days.

State law requires that students attend at least 175 days of school each year.

The two scheduled additional days, Superintendent Terrell Randolph said, will provide some leeway if schools must close because of adverse weather.

Other changes in the calendar include the elimination of All Saints' Day as a school holiday, and switching Hancock North Central eighth grade graduation from Wednesday to Thursday to avoid conflicts with church activities.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Aug. 27-28—New student registration
Aug. 29-30—Faculty inservice
Aug. 31—First student day (dismissal 1 p.m.)

Commuter service begins on daily basis Sunday

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An inaugural run of the Gulf Coast Limited is scheduled Saturday for Amtrak, Rapid Rail Transit Commission members and elected officials, with daily commuter service between Mobile and New Orleans to begin Sunday.

The inaugural run of the Gulf Coast Limited on Saturday will feature special activities at each of the scheduled stops of the commuter from Mobile to New Orleans.

At the Waveland-Bay St. Louis stop, (Waveland and Central Avenues), John Longo, Waveland mayor has planned a big celebration to begin at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Longo said, "We have engineer caps and balloons for kids of all ages. Several bands, and singing groups will be on hand for the festive occasion."

"Naturally I am very delighted in having the commuter service, and we hope it will continue after the World's Fair," Longo stated.

The mayor added, "We extend an invitation to all of our friends of Waveland, Bay St. Louis, and Hancock County to come out on Saturday and help us celebrate."

Charles Pace, chairman of the Louisiana-Mississippi-Alabama Rapid Rail Transit Commission said, "Our commission was instrumental in getting Amtrak to institute the train service."

We believe if pre-sale tickets are successful, that the service can continue even after the World's Fair."

The daily scheduled stop for the Waveland-Bay area beginning on Sunday is 9:11 a.m. for the trip to New Orleans, and leaving the city at 6:30 p.m. in evenings, with a return time of 7:43 p.m. at Waveland.

Waveland officials, Delmar Wilcox, a Mississippi member of the Rapid Rail Transit commission, were among those who last week held press conference along with Amtrak and World's Fair Mascot Seymour D. Fair announcing the inaugural run and regular commuter service from April 29 through September 30, 1984.

A sheltered area is being constructed by the City of Waveland and will be completed for the inaugural run, according to Longo.

Tickets are available from Amtrak in Mobile and New Orleans, Amtrak appointed travel agents including Hancock Travel in Bay St. Louis, and the train conductor.

Judy Kennedy, manager of Hancock Travel, said she now has tickets available for the Gulf Coast Limited.

A special introductory round-trip price of $16 is being offered for adults through May 31, with special discounts offered to groups, senior citizens and military.

News Briefs

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

An organization election meeting of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee is slated Saturday, April 28 at 10 a.m. on the second floor of the courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

MEDITATION SEMINAR

Representatives of Ananda Marga, a non-profit social service organization, will offer a free public seminar on meditation and spiritual principles Thursday, 7 p.m. at City-County Library, Bay St. Louis, Ulman Avenue entrance.

SPRING FORWARD

Daylight Saving Time will be in effect at 2 a.m. Sunday when clocks must be moved forward one hour to 3 a.m. For those who might be sleeping at that hour, an acceptable practice is to move one's timepieces forward one hour before retiring on Saturday evening. Those who chose to ignore both recommendations are likely to be one hour late for church Sunday.

RUMMAGE NEEDED

Bay-Waveland Humane Society has issued an appeal for rummage to stock its flea market at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue.

"We need clothing, appliances, knick-knacks and clothes," said Rosemary Malandra, society spokesman. She said the fund-raising venture has been "highly successful," thus the shortage of inventory.

Articles may be delivered to 113 Jeff Davis, Waveland, or for pick-up call 467-4648, 467-4607 or 467-4461.

MANAGEMENT MEETING

Port and Harbor District managers will meet with Hancock County Board of Supervisors at the Marine Research Center in Bay St. Louis.

Special meeting called to discuss inmate center

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A special meeting has been set for Monday, May 7, to discuss the proposed Mississippi Department of Corrections minimum security facility at Stennis Airport, according to Sam Perniciaro, District Four Supervisor.

The meeting will be held at the District Four Community Center, Highway 43, Kiln, starting at 7 p.m.

Perniciaro late Wednesday said, "I was contacted this week by two residents near the proposed site who were concerned about the facility, after a story appeared in The Sea Coast Echo last Sunday."

"I contacted Michael Chambers, Southern Regional Coordinator Community Services for the Mississippi Department of Corrections and arranged the meeting," Perniciaro added.

Chambers and Frank Alley, administrative assistant to the State's Building Commission were among those who looked at the proposed Stennis site last week with Perniciaro, James Travira, District Five supervisor, and James C. DeBlanc, Hancock County Port and Harbor executive director.

Perniciaro stated, "This meeting is open to the public, and I hope anyone with questions of any type about the proposed facility will be there to ask them."

A similar facility located in Harrison County should open in late May or early June.

The proposed facility will house 75 inmates, each of whom will be closely screened by the Department of Corrections before being assigned," Chambers told local officials on his visit.

"The inmates would be available to work for the county and municipalities during the day, but would be locked up at night," Chambers stated.

Sheriff's office may benefit from drug raid

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The coffers of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department will be several hundred thousand dollars richer if petitions filed this week by District Attorney Cono A. Caranna II are accepted by the court.

Caranna has requested that items confiscated during an April 17 drug raid on a Pearl River residence be forfeited to the state, with title vested in the sheriff's department.

The items include $236,890 in cash; a 1977 Chevrolet automobile; a 1973 Oldsmobile automobile; jewelry including three gold rings, one diamond solitaire, one ring with an unknown gem, one gold chain, one fifty-cent peso gold money clip and one rare gold coin from the early 1900's; and various weapons including shotguns, pistols and rifles.

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said yesterday a pleasure boat, a sailboat and a

Dodge van also confiscated in the raid conducted by officials of the sheriff's

IN MEMORY

VICENTE ORTIZ SR.

Died April 25, 1983

You left the earth a year ago.

I had no way to know,

That you would leave us all alone,

And it would hurt me so.

A part of me has gone with you,

A part that can't return,

And when I think of you, my dear,

My eyes do start to burn.

You left behind a legacy,

Of seven kids and me,

And when I look at all our kids,

In them it's you I see.

Your body may have left us,

But your memory lingers on.

And we never will forget you,

'Til the last one of us is gone.

Chapel dedication set Saturday in Independence for former resident

Louisiana Governor Edwin Edwards will be among the special guests at an open house ceremony dedicated to Sidney Dalton Woods Jr. in Independence, La. on Saturday at 10 a.m.

Woods, a former resident of Hancock County was killed eight years ago this month and had attended Christ Episcopal Day School, Waveland Elementary School, and had participated in several of the schools' activities.

The ceremony will mark the opening of a branch of Thomas Funeral Home by the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dalton Woods Sr., former residents and business owners.

The building known as White Manor, is an old Colonial, historical home that retains most of the original style in the chapel, dedicated to Sidney Woods Jr.

Governor Edwards will be presented a plaque by the youth's four sisters, Mrs. Sheila Thomas, and Mrs. Rhonda Oliver, both of Bay St. Louis; Lizette Woods, and Mrs. Jada Woods Grazino, both of Hammond.

department, U.S. Customs, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and Mississippi Drug Enforcement Administration have been turned over to U.S. Customs.

Peterson also noted that a recount of the cash, originally reported at $236,667, showed a total of $389,690.

Seventy-six bales of marijuana also confiscated in the raid and estimated at 3,600 pounds, actually weighed 5,010 pounds, he said.

The marijuana was burned April 18 at the Hancock County dump.

Carama's forfeiture petitions are addressed to Jeffrey Kerr also known as Emmet Stone and Michael Smith, his son, Peter, Kerr, Hugh Turner and Winslow Byrne.

The Kerrs were residing at 41 Riverside Drive in Pearlman, Turner is from San Rafael, Cal. and Winslow Byrne is from Wakefield, R.I., but the petitions were addressed in care of Hancock County jail.

All four men are being held in the county jail under $1 million bond each. The petitions allege that the confiscated property was used or intended for use in violation of the Mississippi Controlled Substances Act, in connection with the charges the four men face of possession with intent to distribute and conspiracy to distribute the marijuana.

The petitions also state that between Feb. 7, when the drug investigation began, and April 27 it was learned that Jeffrey Kerr used aliases and had prior felony convictions for violation of controlled substances laws.

If the four men do not file a verified answer and claim with the clerk's office within 20 days, the petitions ask the court to determine whether the property was unlawfully used or unlawfully intended for use.

If the men do file a claim, a hearing will be scheduled on the matter.

Peterson said he is pleased that the district attorney took such fast action and initiative.

If the petitions are granted, Peterson said, there are a lot of legal technicalities to be checked.

"We'll have to have a meeting to decide what to do," he said, adding he believes the jewelry, vehicles and weapons could be appraised and sold for their fair market value.

He believes, he said, the sheriff's department would have the authority to decide how to spend or invest the money, noting that if it were invested the annual interest could be used for such items as new vehicles or other equipment for his department.

Gulf Coast Limited's first run is Saturday

It has taken a World Exposition in the City of New Orleans to get a train commuter system back in operation along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

So many folks have worked so hard over the many years since the last commuter train ran each morning and evening.

Newcomers can hardly believe there were six crossings you could board a commuter train in Hancock County on the old Louisville and Nashville line, and that wasn't too many years ago.

A new commuter service by Amtrak on the 'Gulf Coast Limited' is scheduled to begin on Sunday morning.

The stop in Hancock County will be at the Waveland Avenue crossing, near to where the old Waveland Depot was located.

The daily schedule for the train to leave Waveland each morning is at 9:11 a.m. and return at 7:43 p.m., April 29 through September 30.

There is a strong possibility of the service continuing after the World's Fair if enough interest is shown.

A lot of fanfare is scheduled for Saturday at the Waveland Depot for an Inaugural Run of the 'Gulf Coast Limited'.

The activities are to begin at about 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, according to John Longo, Waveland mayor.

There are to be free engineers caps, balloons for the kiddies, bands, and all types of entertainment.

Mayor Longo reports he has all types of special activities planned to witness the first run of the World's Fair Special.

Amtrak, Rapid Rail, and elected officials all along the Coast by invitation are scheduled to be on the inaugural run.

We know Delmar Wilcox, local Rapid Rail representative has been looking forward to the commuter service.

The time is now for us all to give the 'Gulf Coast Limited' a big welcome, and we hope many citizens of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the county will be at the Waveland-Bay St. Louis stop on Saturday.

The location is Waveland and Central Avenues.

There are special rates for senior citizens, groups, and military for train tickets.

Tickets for the service which begins on a daily schedule on Sunday are available at Hancock Travel Agency, located in Shieldsborough Square, Bay St. Louis.

Q: If I hire a teenager to work for me this summer are there any special tax breaks I can qualify for?

A: If you hire a disadvantaged youth for up to 90 days during the summer, you can claim 85 percent of the salary amount as a credit to be deducted from your business' tax return.

The credit is available under the Federal Targeted Jobs Tax Credit Program, which was created in 1982.

To qualify, a business must hire an economically disadvantaged youth 16-17 years old, and pay at least the federal minimum wage of $3.35 an hour.

The teenager's family income for the previous 12 months must not exceed the poverty level established by the Department of Labor, and the teenager must not have worked for the same employer before, either during the previous summer or part-time during the year.

A local office of the state employment service, often called the Job Service, must establish that the teenager is economically disadvantaged and certify this in writing prior to employment.

The tax credit for the business can only be applied to the first $4,000 earned by each eligible teenager during the four and one-half month summer employment term.

From the Office of the Governor

We have been informed by Rodney Reeves, president of the Hancock County Farmers Market, that fresh produce will be available on Saturday.

Reeves said several vendors were at the market last Saturday and many should be there next Saturday from 7 a.m. to noon.

A group of local farmers have been constructing a new shed for use to the east of the facility used for so many years belonging to the Hancock County Livestock Association.

There were not too many volunteers we have noted on several visits to the site. It appears only a handful of persons have worked on the construction.

In addition to Reeves we have noted Lee Taylor, Hancock County agent; and a couple of trustees from the sheriff's office working on the shed in recent weeks.

Several volunteers from Coast Electric set the poles on a weekend last fall after Larry Koenenn, president of the Hancock County Fair and Livestock Association and Walter Turcotte, vice-president, surveyed the location for the new construction.

It is good to see the Farmers Market has its own building.

For newcomers, the market is located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds on Longfellow, near the National Guard Armory. The regular mornings the farmers appear are Saturday and Wednesday during season.

It is again that time of the year when many young boys and several girls are all involved in T-Ball, Little League and other group activities.

This means motorists may see youngsters present at our many ballfields, and all should observe the reduction in speeds.

Boys and girls have their minds on the sporting activities and may forget some safety rules and dart in front of a vehicle at any time.

We know our police departments have set up special patrols around our playgrounds and are always striving for the safety of our youngsters.

So, while driving about town, whether it be in Bay St. Louis, Waveland or in the county, look out for our kids.

While on the subject of youngsters, we have been informed by law officers that the increasing popular three-wheelers are illegal on all roads.

The recent tragedies in Hancock County should shock parents into not letting youngsters ride these dangerous machines.

There appear to be many people interested in doing their bit about beautification in Hancock County.

We are very happy with the participation of so many residents, and are hoping more will join the crowd.

Just a little extra effort on the part of many can make a tremendous change in the appearance of our communities.

Your help is appreciated, and we hope you will continue.

ENERGY AWARDS PROGRAM

Governor Bill Allain has announced that Mississippi is participating in a new Department of Energy program to seek out successful energy projects.

The program is called "Technology Transfer '80s," and its purpose is to identify and accelerate the use of energy-saving practices throughout the country.

Top projects will be identified on a state and national level, with award certificates presented to winners by Governor Allain and the Secretary of Energy.

Governor Allain has assigned the Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation to administer the "Technology Transfer '80s" program in the state.

Any innovative, energy efficient technology or project introduced since January 1, 1980, is eligible for an award.

The applicant may be an individual, business, industry, civic or neighborhood group, or government unit.

Projects funded with federal dollars are eligible for submission to the program.

"Technology Transfer '80s" has been established as an awards competition.

Governor Allain will select up to ten state winners, whose names will be advanced to the national competition.

Secretary of Energy Donald Model will select national awards winners from among this group.

Further special recognition awards will be made to the top handful of projects in the country.

The award will consist of a special certificate and recognition of winners through the media across the country.

In addition, a publication describing all of the National Winners will be available throughout the United States.

Publicity is the main thrust of the awards program, as the goal is to spread successful energy innovations or efficiency measures to other appropriate sectors.

Criteria by which the entries will be judged include transferability, energy savings, effect on people, economic impact, job creation, outreach and education, innovation and multiplier effect.

No one criterion is more important than another, and each entry will be judged only by those criteria which the applicant addresses in his entry.

There is a specific, simple format for entries. The deadline for submission to MDET is May 31, and Governor Allain must make his recommendations to the Energy Secretary by June 30.

For a program brochure outlining details of the "Technology Transfer '80s" program, contact Sheila Molony on the Energy Answerline 1-800-222-8311.

IN CONGRESS By Cong. Trent Lott

TAX TIME

Most working Americans are in one of three categories about this time every year:

1. They've already spent their income tax refund;

2. They're still waiting for their refund; or,

3. They're wondering how to recover from writing that check to cover taxes which weren't withheld during the year.

Of course, there are other categories, too. But, the passing of the regular deadline for federal income taxes gives us a moment to pause and reflect on our tax system.

Mississippians who have contacted me are asking questions like, "Is the present system fair to all taxpayers?" And, "How can we simplify the process?"

I've had more than a few recommendations from people back home on how to make the system more responsive to the needs of the country and, at the same time, make the actual tax return easier to fill out.

There is an effort underway within the administration and in Congress to do just that. The President has instructed the Secretary of the Treasury, Donald T. Regan, to report by this fall on how the system can be streamlined.

I hope that part of his report will involve discussion of the so-called "flat rate" income tax. Interest seems to be growing in this approach and several ideas on it are being discussed.

It seems to me that the fairer and simpler our tax system is, the more likely it is to produce the intended revenues. So, I am pleased that serious thought is being given to a simplified tax in some form.

As the concept moves through the legislative process, I am sure there will be a great deal of debate and, frankly, there are some questions that merit attention.

For example, what percentage of income would the flat rate be, 10 percent, 15 percent or some other number? Also, would the tax replace all deductions? What treatment would be given to mortgage interest deductions, medical expenses, charitable and religious contributions, long-term investments by businesses, or casualty losses?

Further, would there be allowances for personal exemptions, or individual Retirement Account contributions, or interest on purchases of such items as automobiles?

These are the types of questions that will have to be answered. In its strictest sense, a flat rate tax could mean that the people would pay the same percentage of their income into the federal treasury.

Our tax system has become so complicated and illogical that many people think it's on the verge of collapse and that gives a push to those who want to develop a better system. Tax simplification is a very worthy goal and one of which progress must be made soon.

School audit report faults 81-82 records

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County School District students may suffer loss of $35,520 in state funds next year as a result of bookkeeping errors made several years ago when the district was managed under a different administration.

State auditors have advised school board members the errors could result in "chargebacks" and withholding of funds from the district's Minimum Program 1984-85 allocation provided by the state.

An audit team from Jackson gave a preliminary report to the board Monday, saying an official report will be issued next week.

The team cited numerous errors in payments and procedures during the period from July 1, 1981 to June 30, 1982, including:

- Actual expenditures in excess of budget;
- No budget for school food services;
- Carrying claims from one fiscal year to the next;
- Lack of filed surety bonds for one principal;
- Travel advances for instate travel;
- A deficit cash balance in special education funds at the end of the year;
- Failure to follow proper bid procedures;
- Improper interfund loans; and
- Lack of board approval for investment of surplus funds.

The $35,520 which may be withheld was missing from the Minimum Program Funds.

Current Superintendent Terrell Randolph explained Tuesday that about $25,000 of the $35,520 had been used to pay the salary of then-Superintendent Billy Sills.

"His salary was supposed to be paid from local funds," Randolph said.

"When county administration funds were exhausted, the bookkeeper paid the balance of his salary out of supportive services funds, which is not allowable," he said.

"He was paid from the wrong funds." According to Randolph, the balance of the money cited by the auditors was the employer's portion of Social Security and retirement payments for central office clerical staff which was never sent in to the state.

State Field Auditor Mike Sumrall noted Monday that the district failed to provide two essential documents—one a letter of representation from the board stating it is aware of and responsible for the district's finances, the other pertaining to litigation claims and assessments.

"What this means," Auditor Steve Duncan said, "is that the state auditor's office was unwilling and unable to issue an opinion on numbers in the audit."

"We will not say they are good or bad because certain representations were not made."

"This information could be so significant to you that in their absence we are unable to give an opinion," Duncan told the board.

Randolph noted during Monday's meeting that he refused to sign the representation letter because it pertains to 1981-82—a period prior to his administration.

Tuesday he elaborated, noting wording in the representation letter he had been asked to sign, which stated, in part:

"There have been no irregularities involving elected or appointed officials...no violations of law or regulations made in the financial statement...no material transactions not properly recorded..."

"We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that would have a material effect on the financial statements in the event of non-compliance," the document states.

Monday the auditors cited seven specific exceptions from the fiscal year 1981 audit and noted that an audit investigation is continuing backward from June 30, 1982.

Those exceptions include:

- Payment of $92.80 to former trustee Oris Ladner for a board meeting he did not attend;
- Payments of $685 and $683 respectively to former board members

Woodrow Ladner and Louie Ladner for out-of-state travel;

-Payment of $100 paid to Sills in excess of the $1,200 allowed annually for in-county travel;

-Payments of $5,650 and $3,204 respectively to non-certificated teachers Daryl W. Ladner and Mary J. Ladner; and

-Payment of $5,247 to MIRI, Inc. for work on Gulfview Elementary School after a suit was filed charging Sills and the board with violating state bid laws in connection with repair work necessitated by tornado damage.

The auditors have asked for further information and clarification on other 1981-82 fiscal transactions.

"The financial borrowing capacity of the district will not be affected by the audit," Randolph noted, "because our millage is set by the board of supervisors."

"By law, we can get two mills beyond that by board-adopted resolution.

But, he added, he is concerned about the potential chargebacks and the effect it would have on educating the district's students.

Arthritis telethon airs Sunday

Country music singer Mickey Gilley and a cast of entertainers will participate in Sunday's 1984 Arthritis Foundation Telethon broadcast from Nashville, Tenn.

The event will be aired by WLOX-TV, Channel 13, beginning at 12:30 P.M.

WLOX-TV will broadcast "tear-out" segments from their studio approximately 20 minutes every hour to present first-hand reports on Arthritis Foundation activities in Mississippi and to acknowledge local supporters.

Channel 13 personalities, including Mrs. Barbara Salloum, will host the local segments.

WGCM Radio will carry a remote broadcast with the popular diskjockeys "Joe and Jim" live at the fishbowl located in the WLOX parking area.

Listeners will be encouraged to come by the fishbowl to make contributions and enjoy the live entertainment.

"Our viewers will see performances by some of the most popular entertainers in the field of country music," said Julie Williams, local branch director.

"Mickey Gilley is returning as celebrity host for the third consecutive year. All the stars are contributing their talents to help in the fight against arthritis."

The talent line-up in Nashville will include Alabama, Johnny Lee, Charly McClain, Lee Greenwood, Loretta Lynn and others.

The Arthritis Foundation is the only national voluntary health agency dedicated to defeating the nation's number one crippling disease. Located at 200 Pass Road in Gulfport, the Gulf Coast Branch serves more than 85,000 arthritis victims on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Trustees hire architect to study needs

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County School District trustees accepted a proposal Monday from Architect Fred Wagner to assist in the district's long-range building program.

The trustees agreed to pay Wagner $4,000 to study school facility needs, some of which are "immediate" and not long range, Superintendent Terrell Randolph noted.

Wagner, who has already done some preliminary work, said there is "a serious need for expanded physical facilities at each school."

His proposal to the board included four phases:

—Investigation, including visits to each site to review conditions and discuss special problems and needs with Randolph and the school principal;

—Schematic design studies for each school for proposed additions and renovations;

—Cost estimates for each major-scope item at each school on a square-foot basis, so the board can establish priorities; and

—Revision of preliminary drawings and preparation of slides for use at public meetings.

Wagner estimated the four phases will be completed in three to four weeks and will require a total of about 150 man hours.

"Should the project proceed beyond this stage," he said, "the $4,000 fee would be applied toward fees for complete architectural services."

Final architectural fees, he said, would range from six-and-three-fourths percent to seven-and-one-fourth percent of construction costs.

In another matter the trustees approved payment of an additional $1,200 to Wagner for supervising completion of the Hancock North Central High School principal's house.

The house, built to replace one which was destroyed by fire Jan. 4, 1983, was only recently completed.

The construction contract called for completion last October.

Wagner said he took over supervision when J and S Builders, construction contractor, experienced financial difficulties resulting in construction delays.

The school board also approved payments to subcontractors, payment of $9,398 to J and S Builders and payment of $1,365 to the school district as reimbursement for trailer rental expenses incurred as a result of construction delays.

All payments, Wagner said, could be made within the $43,900 contract figure.

Also Monday, following an executive session the trustees approved payment of a $4,201.50 statement for legal services rendered to date by Robert Drake.

Drake is defending past and present school officials in a lawsuit brought by the state resulting from emergency action taken to repair Gulfview Elementary School following tornado damage in 1980.

The state is demanding that the officials pay the school district $370,959 because then-superintendent Billy D. Sills and the board—then comprised of Woodrow Ladner, Oris Ladner, Louie Ladner, Monvel Cuevas and Johnny Banks—allegedly violated state bid laws in awarding repair contracts.

A decision in the lawsuit is expected soon.

Trustee Tommy Shaw objected when Trustee Monvel Cuevas introduced a motion for an executive session.

"We've paid this man close to $40,000 and the public has been kept in the dark," Shaw commented.

"The content of what I have to say is extremely sensitive," Drake responded, and Cuevas' motion passed.

In other business the trustees:

—Approved use of the Charles B. Murphy Elementary School cafeteria April 24 by Boy Scouts from the Pearl-ington area;

—Approved a request that Charles B. Murphy School contract with Isiah Oliver to pick up trash at least three times a week during regular school months for $40 per month;

—Agreed to advertise for bids for nine 24-inch wall-mount oscillating fans for the district cafeteria;

—Approved a ten percent dues increase for Mississippi School Board Association membership, to $1,068 per year;

—Agreed to advertise for bids for a public address system for Hancock North Central; and —Tabled approval of an air-conditioning fund-raising project at Hancock North Central by the Junior Beta Club.

The trustees also approved the following travel requests:

—Gulfview Elementary School first graders, to Audubon Zoo in New Orleans, La. April 26;

—Randolph and board members, to a meeting of the Gulf Coast School Boards Association April 26 in Long Beach;

—Randolph, to a May 10 public hearing on criteria and guidelines for kindergarten conducted by the State Department of Education in Hattiesburg;

—Randolph and principals, to a May 1 principals' workshop in Gulfport; —Cafeteria Managers Myra Peterson, Margaret Parker and Leola Stoufflet, to recertification classes April 30-May 28 in Long Beach at fees of $60 each; and —Myra Peterson and Cafeteria Supervisor Rhea Scaffidi, to Harrison County to study school cafeteria soup-and-salad line systems.

Question solicitors of 'charity' groups

By Jan Kelly
Area Consumer
Management Specialist
"Mama, there is someone at the door wanting money," is an all too familiar plea.

Americans are generous, but charitable gifts should be figured in the overall budget. In 1981, over $53 billion was given to charities.

Solicitation appeals are made by telephone, door-to-door, and on the street. Ask questions. Charities with nothing to hide will answer questions. Be wary of reluctance or inability to answer reasonable questions.

Ask for the charity's full name and address. If you don't know the solicitor, ask for his or her name.

Don't succumb to pressure to give money on the spot or let them send a "runner" to pick up a contribution.

ask what the charity's share will be.

You may not be able to deduct the full amount paid for such an item since the Internal Revenue Service considers only the part directly benefiting the charity to be a charitable contribution.

Mail appeals sometimes bring tears to your eyes, but don't be "taken" by sad stories. Look for a good description of the charity and what it is doing about the problem it describes.

It is illegal to mail a bill, invoice, or statement of account due that is an appeal for funds unless it bears a clear disclaimer.

The consumer is under no obligation to pay for unordered items enclosed with an appeal letter.

A sweepstakes that requires a contribution is a lottery and it is illegal to operate a lottery through the mail.

Decide which charities will be included in your budget. Request a copy of each organization's latest annual report, list of board members, and latest financial statements. Find out how much of your dollar goes to the charity's program.

Compare the charity income to its expenses. The Council of Better Business Bureaus recommends that at least half of the charity's total income should be spent on programs. Contact the Better Business Bureau, 863-6645, for help in evaluating local charitable appeals.

There's something about cooking outdoors and sniffing those wonderful aromas that makes everything taste better, from hamburgers to haute cuisine, don't you think?

The hibachis and smokers and barbecue pits and even those small disposable grills have been going like mad all around our neighborhood these spring days.

It's said that, despite inflation and such, the favorite American food for cooking over the coals is steak, with chicken a close second. Well, if you want to stick to steak, you needn't mortgage the old homestead for such delectables as sirloin or porterhouse or ribeye, you can do quite well with that good old 'chuck'—be it blade or round or what, and it's well suited to outdoor cooking.

One of the tastiest 'economy with elegance' meats for al fresco dining is a thick (say an inch and a half or two inches thick) cut of beef chuck blade pot roast or steak, the first cut. This has some of the 'rib eye,' so that you get the blade steaks and a bit of other steak to boot. That's a trick the old family cook taught me years ago.

Sometimes I cut that more tender part away and save it for another meal, and other times I let it all go on the grill.

At any rate, get that first blade cut—it has a rather skinny flat bone running through it. Round bone chuck is good also. And, I have even used beef brisket cuts with good results.

But, of course, you can't just plop that chuck steak on the grill—you'd better marinate it overnight, or at least for a few hours or more, or at least let it soak in olive oil and lemon juice for a couple of hours.

Here's one of our favorite marinades, for tenderizing the tougher cuts of meat. Here's:

MARINADE
(Quantity depends, of course, on amount of steak)

1 cup red wine

3 or 4 Tbsp. red wine vinegar

Half to a cup of olive oil

1 well-crushed clove of garlic

Several slices of onion, or more

Dashes of hot pepper sauce

Puddle it all together, marinate the steak in it overnight, or for several hours at least. Drain off the marinade and grill the meat to your taste. You may add barbecue sauce if you wish, but why?

Serve with potatoes and whole onions roasted on the grill or in the ashes, or rice pilaf, along with a green salad—enjoy!

ASCS Report

MAY 1, LAST DAY

Farmers have until May 1 to report the sizes and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded small grains to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Fall-seeded crops which are not certified by the deadline will be ineligible for program benefits.

County ASC official Franklin A. Gennin said some farmers reported their small grains when they signed up for the 1984 acreage reduction programs and some reported spring-seeded crops.

ASCS randomly checks farms to verify that the acreage reports are accurate and also provides aerial photographs for farmers to identify their fields. "The acreage reports will be used to determine compliance with farm programs and will also serve as a basis for the 1985 program base acres for farms," Gennin said.

To be eligible for price support loans, target prices and other program benefits, farmers who participate in the 1984 programs are required to report the actual planted acreage on a field-by-field basis. "Farmers who did not sign up for the programs should benefit also by certifying their planted acres because the 1984 acreage will be used to establish the 1985 crop base," the ASCS official said.

Pearl River and Hancock County farmers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so by May 1. The ASCS office is open from 8 a.m. to 4:40 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Because of recently enacted legislation, significant revisions have been made in the contract for participation in the 1984 Wheat Price Support and Production Adjustment Program. Here is a summary of the revisions.

1. The previously required 30 percent unpaid wheat acreage reduction has been replaced with a combination of paid diversion for 10 percent of a farm's acreage base and a 20 percent unpaid acreage reduction requirement.

The diversion payment rate is $2.70 per bushel. Participants may receive 50 percent of the diversion payment in advance.

2. The target price for wheat has been changed from $4.45 per bushel to $4.38 per bushel. As a result, the portion of wheat deficiency payment subject to the payment limitation has been reduced from $9.00 to $8.83 and the rate of liquidated damages for failure to comply with the requirements of the Wheat Price Support and Production Adjustment Program contract has been reduced from $8.83 per bushel to $8.76 per bushel.

3. Acreage which is designated as acreage conservation reserve under the Wheat Price Support and Production Adjustment program which was devoted to wheat prior to January 12, 1984, may be hayed or grazed, so long as the haying is completed before the established disposition date or the wheat reaches soft dough stage.

New NSTL Visitor Center dedication set

New exhibits are being installed and the final touches are being added at NSTL's Visitors Center in preparation for a May 11 dedication ceremony.

Mississippi Congressman Trent Lott is scheduled to be the keynote speaker at the dedication which is now set for 10 a.m. in front of the Visitors Center entrance.

Employees and the public are invited to attend the activities.

Welcoming remarks will be made by Jerry Hlass, NSTL director. Other guests invited to take part in the dedication include federal, state and local officials, civic leaders, educators and business and industry representatives.

The dedication of the center will culminate years of planning and finally more than six months of designing and construction to accommodate the increasing number of visitors expected to tour the installation.

The Visitors Center's "Space-Oceans-Earth" theme will be depicted by a series of new exhibits, video displays, authentic scale models, photographs, artifacts and actual rocket engines built for use in America's space program.

The theme will cover past and present achievements and future projects for NASA and all of the federal and state agencies collocated at NSTL.

The overall Visitors Center exhibit space has been increased with the addition of a 4,500 square foot, multi-level area constructed on the west side of the existing facility.

The lobby where visitors enter now features a reception area and a special section honoring Mississippi's own astronauts.

The enhancement of the display area is part of a project to improve the overall visitor program.

The Visitors Center will open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. beginning May 7. The center has been operating on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. excluding holidays.

An updated multi-media presentation will be shown in the Visitors Center auditorium along with the latest films and videotapes from NASA and several other participating federal and state agencies at NSTL.

Other features of the enhanced center will include a special viewing area in the 90-foot Space Tower and a historical "theme park" and picnic area near the center.

VA opposes discontinuance of property acquisition program

It is a very unwise economic move...nothing but a quick fix. The veterans' service organizations are against it, the mortgage bankers and the lending institutions are against it, this subcommittee is adamantly opposed to it, and the veteran population, especially potential first-time home buyers, could be in real trouble if this proposed policy is implemented," said Congressman Richard Shelby of Alabama and chairman of the Subcommittee on Housing and Memorial Affairs of the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

Shelby offered his comments following a recent hearing on the recommendations of the Grace Commission that the Veterans Administration discontinue property acquisition within its Home Loan Guaranty Program.

The Grace Commission, formally known as the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, recommended last year that the VA, in all foreclosure proceedings, pay off the guaranteed portion of a loan and leave the lender to dispose of the property, says Mike Ladner, Hancock County Veterans service officer.

Currently, when a VA guaranteed loan goes into default and is foreclosed, the VA has a second option—to pay off the loan, acquire the property, sell it and recoup most of its money, Ladner says.

The Grace Commission claims that by reducing property inventory and acquisition costs which, in turn, would result in an employee reduction of 136, the Home Loan Guaranty Program would be more cost effective. However, opponents claim just the opposite, he reports.

While revenue generated by the sale of foreclosed properties already on hand would sustain savings in the short-term (two years is the estimate heard most often), the VA stands to lose approximately $10,000 more per foreclosure in the long-term should it no longer be able to derive an income from property holdings, Ladner states.

The Grace Commission reportedly based its recommendations on a high foreclosure and VA property acquisition rate in recent years. This increase in property acquisition is depleting VA loan guaranty funds. These revolving funds are normally self-sustaining due to the VA's ability to recover its money through practices such as the sale of foreclosed properties, the service officer reports.

Opponents have other cause for concern. What effect might this policy have on veterans attempting to buy their first home? Mortgage lenders are expected to tighten loan eligibility criteria, and it has been considered that they could opt to stop buying VA loans altogether, Ladner says.

Robert J. Mahn, senior vice president of Mortgage Operations in the Federal National Mortgage Association, says, "One such measure would be to charge higher fees and/or discount points for all future VA mortgages purchased, sufficient to cover unanticipated losses on existing loans as well as on those that may be purchased in the future. This could mean that many future applicants for VA loans would be faced with higher housing costs because these veterans would be required to absorb an additional financial burden to offset anticipated losses for their own loans as well as for all VA loans now in our portfolio."

Shelby states, "Certainly we must find a solution to the current problems with the revolving fund. Much depends on the improvement of the economy, which is largely in the hands of the Administration. I believe we have established in this hearing, though, that eliminating property acquisition is a very short-sighted solution. It is a perfect example of budget manipulation—make it look good for now and worry about the future later. The bottom line is that it would prove to be terribly expensive for the American taxpayer."

POINT OF LAW

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your legal rights).

Q: Please explain how a lawyer can represent a person charged with a crime when the lawyer knows or is convinced that the person is guilty.

A: The United States Constitution requires the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that a criminal defendant is guilty of the crime charged.

Until the state can make such proof, the defendant is presumed to be innocent. One of the highest legal, ethical and moral responsibilities of a lawyer is to ensure that his fundamental right is preserved.

The lawyer's own personal judgment about the guilt or innocence of the client does not affect the presumption of innocence.

The lawyer's duty is to defend the client zealously, within the bounds of the law, and to see that the client has his day in court.

It is true that this presumption of innocence has shielded some notorious criminals, but it also protects all citizens, including you and me.

Q: I borrowed money from the bank six months ago and now the loan has come "due."

Pets looking for a home.....

CONTEMPLATING THEIR FUTURE—These kittens, part of a litter of seven-week-old females being held at the Bay-Waveland Animal Shelter, seem chastened by the danger sign hanging on their cage. They, like many other innocent stray or abandoned cats and dogs at the shelter, will be euthanized unless homes are found for them. For adoption information, call a Hancock County Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. weekdays except Thursday. Persons who cannot adopt pets but are concerned about the plight of these animals are asked to contribute cash, rags for cleanup or dog and cat food. The society also needs more volunteers to work at the shelter. (Staff photos by Nan Patton Ehrbright)

Mississippi Public Radio expanding day to 18 hours

On Monday, April 30, Public Radio in Mississippi (PRM) will move to a full broadcast schedule of 18 hours per day on seven of its eight-station network. The broadcast day will begin at 6 a.m. and end at midnight daily.

For those individuals who have been listening during the program test phase of the network's existence, classical music has been the basic fare.

Beginning Monday, the schedule will expand to include in-depth public affairs from National Public Radio and the BBC, as well as jazz, bluegrass, radio drama and other offerings.

Even though the hours will expand to a full broadcast day, the April 30 schedule will not be the final program schedule for PRM.

As the studios at the flagship station in Jackson are not as yet complete, programming will be broadcast out of temporary facilities.

With no capabilities to produce local programming, the first month or two will be comprised totally of National Public Radio offerings and syndicated programming.

After that time locally produced programming will gradually be added to the broadcast schedule.

Linda Flentje, director of radio, said, "In this manner we can truly reflect the listening needs and interests of Mississippians, as well as illustrate the abundance of talent and the wealth of resources this state has to offer."

As has been the case since Nov. 15, PRM's program schedule will be carried on the following stations: WMAE, 89.5 FM, Mississippi State; WMAE, 89.5 FM, Booneville; WMAH, 90.3 FM, Biloxi; WMAO, 90.9 FM, Greenwood; WMAU, 88.9 FM, Bude; WMAV, 90.3 FM, Oxford and WMAW, 88.1 FM, Meridian.

The flagship station at Jackson, WMAA, 91.3 FM, will sign-on at a later date after studio renovations and tower construction are completed.

As the broadcast schedule is finalized, a monthly program guide will be created. Listeners may have their names added to the mailing list by writing Public Radio in Mississippi, 1920 Dunbarton, Jackson, MS 39216.

PRM Program Schedule
On weekdays, the broadcast day will begin with "Morning Edition," National Public Radio's morning newsmagazine.

It is a combination of national news as compiled by National Public Radio staff in Washington, D.C., and as submitted from the 288 NPR affiliates across the country.

Following at 9 a.m. will be three hours of classical music, including the "St. Louis Symphony," "San Francisco Symphony," "The Vocal Scene" and others.

At noon, a public affairs block will air, featuring a variety of programs which will range from "National Press Club" and "BBC Science Magazine" to "Horizons," an NPR offering focusing on minority issues.

At 1 p.m. classical music will once again be the fare. It will continue until 4 p.m. when NPR's award-winning afternoon newsmagazine, "All Things Considered" will air.

Following "ATC" is an evening of classical music until PRM signs-off at midnight. During that block, listeners will hear "Adventures in Good Music" each week night at 7 p.m., followed by such symphonic offerings as the "Chicago Symphony Orchestra," the "Boston Symphony Orchestra," and the "Cleveland Orchestra."

At 10 p.m. "Starlight Concert" will air, bringing late night entertainment in the form of light classical music to Mississippi listeners.

The only deviation from this initial schedule will be on Friday nights, when PRM airs locally and nationally produced jazz from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Weekends will bring a variety of offerings for listeners. On Saturdays, PRM will begin the day with light classical music, including the "Boston Pops Orchestra" at 10 a.m.

At 1 p.m., the Chicago Lyric Opera will be broadcast, followed by the weekend version of "All Things Considered" at 4 p.m.

The mood will change at 5 p.m. as "A Prairie Home Companion," hosted by Garrison Kellor, is broadcast.

Rapidly becoming one of the most popular programs on the public radio scene today, this program brings together fantasy, talented folk performers and Kellor's wit to form two hours of diverse entertainment for listeners.

At 7 p.m., PRM's own Mike Morgan will host an hour of locally produced bluegrass, folk and acoustic music, appropriately named "Grassroots."

Following "Grassroots" will be the first simulcast entered into by Mississippi ETV and Public Radio in Mississippi—"Austin City Limits."

PRM will then air three hours of jazz until sign-off at midnight.

Sundays will be basically devoted to classical music until "All Things Considered" airs at 4 p.m. A public affairs block, featuring "Washington Week in Review" and "Wall Street Week" will follow.

Big band music will be the fare at 6 p.m., with radio drama being broadcast at 7 p.m. This block will include nostalgic series from the past, as well as updated versions from syndicators and National Public Radio.

PRM will then air classical music until sign-off at midnight.

Public Radio in Mississippi is a division of the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television.

Attorney says Kosbab murder suspect insane

Kenneth Paul Gremillion, charged with the Feb. 25 murder of insurance executive Richard Kosbab, has been ordered to the state mental institute to determine his sanity.

"The Court having found reasonable cause to believe that said defendant may be presently insane or otherwise so mentally incompetent as to be unable to understand the proceedings against him to properly assist his own defense, so orders that (he) be sentenced to the State Mental Institute at Whitfield," Circuit Court Judge James Thomas said in his order filed Friday in Hancock County.

Gremillion will undergo testing to determine whether he is mentally competent to stand trial, the order states. Gremillion, 29, is accused of stabbing to death his 44-year-old neighbor at the Carroll Avenue apartment complex in Bay St. Louis.

Gremillion's attorney, Boyce Holleman, stated in his motion for commitment that Gremillion has undergone two mental evaluations since his arrest.

"William Howard and Henry Maggio both examined him and both said that he was insane at the time of the offense and is insane now and should be confined," Holleman said Tuesday.

Howard is a clinical psychologist and Maggio is a psychiatrist.

Also, Gremillion had been "given a general discharge from the Navy and is receiving a service-connected disability from the Veterans Administration, apparently due to mental disability," the motion stated.

Gremillion is in the Harrison County Jail awaiting transfer to Whitfield.

Bread will retain its original quality for two to three months if left in the wrapper and stored in the home freezer.

COMING CLEAN at work

Since 80% of the expense of maintaining a washroom is labor—not materials—special care should be taken in the choice of fixtures.

The wastebasket, for example, should have an open top. Enclosed containers may be more attractive, but they offer a more difficult "target." And since few people stop to pick up a "miss," the tidying up is left to the custodial staff and creates an unnecessary demand upon their time.

Another savings on costly labor, according to the Washroom Advisory Service of the Scott Paper Co., can be achieved through the right selection of towel and tissue dispensers.

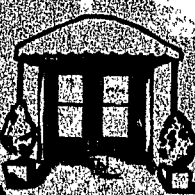

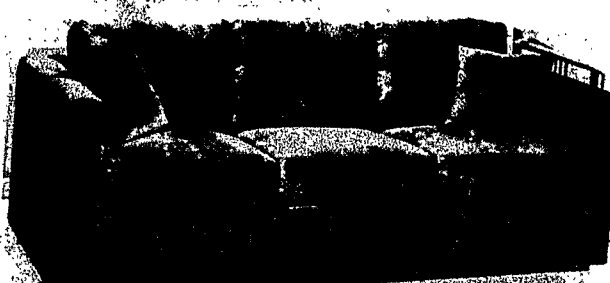

When roll towels are used, the washroom should be equipped with a dispenser that holds two rolls—specifically, one that automatically starts the second roll when the first has been used up. This can cut in half the time required to assure a continuing, uninterrupted supply of towels.

The same concept should be kept in mind when selecting tissue dispensers: choose a model that holds two rolls, not just one. Again, both labor costs and the inconvenience of running out of tissue are decreased.

Seven Bay Area soccer teams preping for state tournament

Seven Bay Area Youth Soccer teams this week are preparing for the State Tournament in Starkville May 5-6.

These teams are Lolacano's Health Club (U-10), Dental Health Service and Pat's Chevron (U-12), Knights of Columbus (U-14), Alcan Cable (U-16), Dillmann Roofing (U-10 Girls) and Sports World (U-16 Girls).

This weekend Dillmann Roofing is hosting on Sunday at 2 p.m. a practice/scrimmage with the Slidell first-place recreation team at Waveland Elementary School.

Also Saturday at St. Augustine Seminary Alcan Cable will play two games, the first one at 10 a.m. against the Slidell "Rowdies" and the second one at 3 p.m. against the Plantation Soccer Club of New Orleans.

And Sports World travels to Slidell to play the Under 14 Girls Select team at 11 a.m. Saturday in its final tune-up game.

"BAYS wants to take this opportunity to thank the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club for its generous contribution to cover the entry fees of our teams going to Starkville," said President Tom Demboski. There will be other fund raising activities by BAYS to help to raise the necessary funds to cover the expenses of these teams. Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible contribution can mail it to BAYS, P. O. Box 1335, Bay St. Louis.

All soccer supporters—coaches, referees, parents and sponsors—are reminded of the general membership meeting at 8 p.m. on Saturday, May 12 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Bay St. Louis. A party will follow the meeting with complimentary refreshments as BAYS' way of saying thank-you to all its supporters, Demboski added.

Rosetti hurls Rocks to Warrior win

St Stanislaus took a 3-2 victory over d'Iberville last Wednesday at Rock-A-Chaw field.

Matt Rosetti went the distance for St. Stanislaus, striking out 11 batters.

d'Iberville opened the scoring in the top of the first inning when leadoff batter Joey Herbert struck out, but the ball got by catcher Mark Logan. Rosetti then struck out Ken Cooper and Peter Crowinshield. With Herbert on third, Bill Monk walked. Tom Rushing's grounder to the infield scored Herbert. St. Stanislaus came back in the bottom of the first to score three runs. Ron Artigues led off with a single, David Pitalo walked, and Chris Darling hit a three run homer over the left field fence. This ended the scoring for the Rocks, and although St. Stanislaus had six hits in the game, the Rocks could never mount another scoring threat.

singled to right, scoring Harrison.

The Rocks and warriors battled the last five innings scoreless. Rosetti mixed up his pitches to keep d'Iberville's hitters off balance.

St. Stanislaus, 11-0-1, closes out the season next week with a visit to d'Iberville on Tuesday and entertains Pass High next Wednesday.

Girls Babe Ruth League tryouts set

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A new Babe Ruth Softball League for girls will have registrations in Bay St. Louis on Saturday and Sunday, according to George Proulx, league president.

Proulx appeared at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce board of directors on Tuesday saying, "We would like to keep your group informed as to what we are doing in the Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth League this year."

Proulx announced that Bay St. Louis will be the first time to host the state play-offs in mid-July for the 13 to 15 year-old-boys baseball championship.

On Wednesday Proulx stated, "We have formed four girls softball teams, and registration and tryouts will be Saturday at 9 a.m. and on Sunday at 2 p.m. at the McDonald Field, Dunbar and Carroll Avenues."

"The league is in need of three sponsors for the girls league. Ward's is our first sponsor."

The president said a sponsorship costs $400, and that includes uniforms, insurance, etc.

The Boys Babe Ruth Baseball League will again be comprised of six teams of 13 to 15 year-olds, with the addition of a senior team, 16 to 18 year-olds for Bay St. Louis.

Ronnie Artigues, secretary of the Babe Ruth League, is the sponsor of the new boys team, Proulx said. He added, "This team plays others from along the Coast, and a lot of travel is involved."

The boys Babe Ruth teams have already been selected, and league play is scheduled to begin on May 2 at the field next to Tiger Stadium. The boys play on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 6 and 8 p.m.

Sponsors for the boys are Hancock Bank, Seals Dry Walls, American Legion, Alcan Cable, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, and Goodview Tire Service.

Marian Campbell is the girls softball commissioner.

Other league officers include Neil Favre, vice-president; and Sarah Seals, treasurer.

Persons interested in sponsoring a girls team can reach Proulx at 467-7516 after 5 p.m.

ROLAND LADNER

Coaches honor Roland Ladner

Phillips College Athletic Director and Men's Basketball Coach Roland Ladner is one of six men who have been named to the Mississippi Association of Coaches Hall of Fame.

Ladner will be inducted into the MAC Hall of Fame in Jackson on July 27.

Others are former Forest Hill Principal Shellie J. Bailey Sr.; St. Joseph Athletic Director William Joseph Raphael; longtime Mississippi Delta Junior College Coach and Athletic Director James Bennett Randall Jr.; Greenwood Pillow Academy Athletic Director Hollis Barnett Rutter; and Forest High Girls Basketball Coach Durward Smith.

Ladner carved his name in the basketball record book during his days as boys basketball coach at Hancock North Central.

A 1948 graduate of Sellers High School, Ladner returned to his alma mater to start his coaching career in 1951.

He moved over to Harrison Central in 1957 to coach boys and girls basketball and stayed there until 1963, when he jumped to Hancock North Central.

Ladner entered the college ranks in 1981 when he took over the Phillips College men's basketball program.

Ladner is the winningest active coach in America, as his boys teams have recorded 823 wins against 261 defeats.

The University of Southern Mississippi graduate's teams have won 70 invitational tournaments, 17 district tournament crowns, six South State titles and one State Tournament.

Ladner coached the South boys all-star team in 1957 and 1966. He was selected "Coach of the Year" in 1972-73.

Race sponsors urge early registration

Registration forms are still available for the second annual Hancock General Hospital Feelin' Good Run-Bike-Walk, set for Saturday, May 12 at 5 p.m. at Buccaneer State Park in Waveland.

The 5,000-meter Road Runners Club of America sanctioned run is being sponsored by Hancock General Hospital and hosted by the Gulf Coast Running Club.

The event will include a 5,000-meter run, a 10-mile bike race and a one-mile fun walk. The course, out and back, will begin at Buccaneer State Park in Waveland, go up Beach Boulevard toward Bay St. Louis and end at Buccaneer State Park.

Water and ERG will be provided at the halfway point and refreshments will be available at the finish line.

For the run, trophies will be awarded to the first place finishers (male and female), the first place finishers in each age group and the oldest and youngest finishers. The second and third place finishers in each age group will receive ribbons.

For the bike race, a trophy will go to the overall first place finisher, and ribbons will be presented the second and third place finishers in each age group.

Loiacano's Health Club in Bay St. Louis and Converse Shoes will provide a total of three pairs of running shoes for a random drawing of all participants.

Registration forms are available at local athletic clubs and shops in Bay St.

The Waveland Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department will be assisting in traffic control for the protection of all participants. Mobile Medic Ambulance Service will also be available in the event of an emergency.

For more information contact Mary Perkins at 467-9081, extension 165 (8-4:30 weekdays), or Marty Brown at 388-5834 (evenings).

Bay Little League opening day slated

The Bay St. Louis Little League's 1984 opening day will be Saturday, beginning with a parade of teams and field ceremonies, followed by a full day of games played by American and National League teams.

The parade of teams will begin at 9 a.m. from the Market Town Shopping Center and proceed down Dunbar Avenue to Highland Drive, down Highland Drive into the new Bay St. Louis Little League field.

The field ceremonies will begin with introductions and entertainment by the Bay Junior High School Band.

Mayor Larry Bennett will throw out the first ball to begin the first game of the 1984 season.

The league is composed of a National League for nine and ten-year-olds and an American League for 11 and 12-year-old players.

The officers of the league have listed the following coaches for the 1984 season:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Coastal Insurance, Donald Strong and Larry Dahl; Kergosien Insurance, Terrell La Fontaine and Frank Penton, Sr.

Lil Mushroom, Chip Merriam and Dusty Rhodes.

Riemann's, Russell D. Rosencrans and John Sorey; Treutel Insurance, Kevin Edwards.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

American Legion, Ray Murphy and Shane Corr.

Edmond Fahey, Wendell Ingram.

Gulf National Bank, Patrick Lewis and John R. Lewis; Merchants Bank, Ed Blaize and Ross Jancilla.

The following game schedule will be used on opening day:

Lil Mushroom vs. Coastal Insurance (home team), 10 a.m.

Gulf National Bank vs. American Legion (home team), 11:30 a.m.

Treutel Insurance vs. Kergosien Insurance (home team), 1 p.m.

Edmond Fahey vs. Merchants Bank (home team), 2:30 p.m.

Riemann's drew a bye for the opening day round of games and will play their first game on Monday, April 30 at 6 p.m. against Lil Mushroom.

"Please come out on Saturday and enjoy a full day of Little League Baseball, compliments of the nine through 12-year-olds of the Bay St. Louis Little League," said Claude D. Switzer, league president.

Other officers include Kevin Edwards, vice president; Virginia A. Gex, secretary; Ed Blaize, treasurer; and Joseph W. Gex, player-agent.

The refreshment stand will be operated by Russ Rosencrans in cooperation with the Bay St. Louis Little League.

Annual Black and Gold intersquad game slated

The University of Southern Mississippi's spring football practice will come to an end Saturday afternoon when the Black and Gold teams square off in the 38th annual intersquad game.

Members of the winning team will eat sirloin steaks and the losers will eat "beanie wienies" after the family feud that always promises to be full of surprises.

In last year's contest the Blacks scored on a one-yard run by tailback Sam DeJarnette with 30 seconds remaining to post a 26-22 victory over the Golds. DJ rushed for a game high 172 yards and scored three touchdowns in the game.

The Eagles have 33 of 51 lettermen back from last year's team that posted a second straight 7-4 record. Included among the 33 returning lettermen are 11 starters, five on offense and six on defense.

Offensive starters returning of the Eagles include flanker Lyle Alston (who played split end last season), guard Randy Campbell (a tackle in '83), quarterback Robert Duckworth, tackle Chris Haag and DeJarnette.

Defensive starters back are ends Chris Jackson and Willie

B. Moore, tacklers Richard Byrd and Kip Smith, linebacker Greg Haeusler and cornerback Bobo Harris.

One of the big questions facing USM head coach Jim Carmody and his staff this spring offensively was how far an added year's experience for Duckworth at quarterback would go toward offsetting the loss of the team's top wide receiver (Louis Lipps), top two fullbacks (Neal Alexander and Clemon Terrell), top two tight ends (Mike Landrum and Jim Brown), three interior linemen (center Steve Carmody, and tackles Glen Howe and Dwayne Massey), and place-kicker Steve Clark, the school's third all-time leading scorer.

Defensively Carmody must replace one of the nation's top nose guards (Jerald Baylis), a skilled starting linebacker (Greg Kelley), three fourths of the starting secondary (corner back Bruce Miller and safeties Bud Brown and Mike Schuro) and the punter (Larry Boyd).

Several awards will be presented at halftime which will also feature the introduction of the 1984 USM Sports Hall of Fame inductees. They are golfer Sam Hall of Hattiesburg and former football standouts Nick Kolinsky of Petal and Hattiesburg, Lawrence Meeks of Corinth, John Mangum of Magee and Billy Mikel of Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Kickoff is set for 2 p.m. in USM's Roberts Stadium.

Wildlife Department report

DWC LOSES FACILITY

Fishermen using Eagle Lake north of Vicksburg will want to take note of the fact that beginning May 1 the public boat launching ramp and the campground on the east side of the lake off Highway 465 and near Shell Beach will no longer be the responsibility of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

The department received word recently that the A. J. Messina estate which owns the property has declined to renew the lease of the launching ramp and campground with the department.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The Department of Wildlife Conservation Monday evening in the Grenada County Courthouse began a series of public hearings across the state.

Agency staff members expect to hear comments and questions from hunters and fishermen about upcoming fall and winter seasons, dates, and bag limits.

Other hearings across Mississippi are scheduled for: Columbus, Thursday, Apr. 26 at the courthouse; Belzoni, Monday, Apr. 30 at the courthouse; Hattiesburg, Wednesday, May 2 at the courthouse; Jackson, Thursday, May 3 in the Assembly Room on the second floor of the Woolfolk State Office Building.

All public hearings begin at 7 p.m.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE

A Mississippi wildlife administrator has been appointed to a national committee to draft a plan for managing continental waterfowl populations.

Lon Strong, the executive director of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, has been appointed to a nine-member planning committee to develop a waterfowl management plan for North America. Members were selected from across the United States.

In representing the Southern states, Strong said that part of the committee's plan will be to look at the needs of ducks and geese in both their breeding and wintering grounds.

"This committee will deal with policy issues which will relate first and foremost to what needs to be done to properly manage waterfowl in the future, and not specifically how it should be done."

Strong, 41, said that the committee hopes to formulate a draft plan to present to the four Flyway Councils within several months. He said that developing the management plan will be a joint venture with the Canadian Wildlife Service, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and Mexico.

Strong, who was born in Lambert, first served as a waterfowl biologist with the Department of Wildlife Conservation before becoming executive director in 1981.

A thought for meditation from our pastor, Father Lambert Stack, ST:

"There is a way to tell if that little sprout in your garden is a weed or flower that you planted. Just pull it out. If it comes up again, you know it was a weed."

The Easter Cake Sale was a great success! Gary Serpas of Slidell, La. won the Afghan raffled Easter weekend. Father Stack would like to thank everyone who contributed in any way to the cake sale, particularly Mrs. Mable Brown.

SC brothers marking 50 years of service

Three Brothers of the Sacred Heart celebrate their Golden Jubilees this year. Brother Herman Bland, Brother Loyola Mattingly, and Brother Marion McCauley.

These three entered the Brothers' juniorate at Metuchen, New Jersey in 1934.

New York born, Brother Herman James Boland is the son of John James Boland and Mary Boland, both deceased.

In 1938 Brother took first vows in Metuchen and a year later began his career in the classroom at Catholic High in Baton Rouge.

He taught at two other Louisiana schools: Thibodaux College now F.D. White High School, and Cor Jesu (now Brother Martin High School).

Brother Herman saw service in Mobile, Ala., at McGill High School (1955-56) and in Mississippi, teaching briefly at St. Stanislaus in Bay St. Louis and at St. Aloysius High School in Vicksburg in the early 1940's.

Almost half of his teaching career, Brother spent educating African youth in Kenya, Sudan, and Uganda.

In 1981, he terminated his teaching assignment at Baton Rouge. Brother Herman is presently stationed at St. Stanislaus High School where he is director of the audio-visual center.

Brother Loyola (Robert Paul Mattingly), born in Washington, Ind., is the son of William Everett Mattingly and Emma Mattingly, both deceased. In 1938, he took first vows in Metuchen; a year later he was assigned to St. Rose of Lima in Brooklyn, N.Y.

He spent 43 years in the classroom, 28 of which were at St. Stanislaus.

Additionally, he was stationed six years in Metuchen and six at Daphne, Ala., where he served as director for several years.

Moving to Catholic Boys' Home in Mobile, he was director there also for a year.

In 1982, Brother retired from classroom duties to devote his energies to other things—raising pecans, repairing and building furniture as well as restoring antiques.

He is a landscape artist and helps keep the lawns on campus neat and trim. Brother

BROTHER LOYOLA

BROTHER HERMAN

BROTHER MARION

Loyola is rounding out a quarter century of continuous service at Stanislaus this year.

Brother Marion (James Tyler McCauley), the son of Murray Bramwell McCauley Sr. and Nell McCauley (both deceased), was born in Muskogee, Okla.

His first vows were taken at Metuchen in 1935 and his first teaching assignment was at Metuchen also.

With the exception of perfecting one year at Catholic Boys' Home in Mobile and another year at St. Stanislaus, Brother Marion's entire career was devoted to the classroom until 1971.

Prior to 1971, he taught at St. Willibrord's in Verdun, Canada; Menard High School in Alexandria, La. for 11 years; Cor Jesu High School in New Orleans; Catholic High School in Baton Rouge; and St. Aloysius in New Orleans. Brother also taught several years at his alma mater, St.

Stanislaus.

Currently, Brother Marion is director of alumni in New Orleans for St. Aloysius, Cor Jesu, and Brother Martin High Schools.

He also works with the Naval Junior ROTC at Brother Martin, is secretary for the Louisiana Chapter of American Teachers of French, does volunteer work for the New Orleans Public Library, works on his family genealogy, and is assistant logistic officer for the Louisiana Wing of the Civil Air Patrol—the search and rescue portion of the U.S. Air Force.

The jubilarians were honored in the community at St. Stanislaus on Easter Sunday.

State employment picture encouraging over last year

Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped to 10.3 percent in March, a decrease of six-tenths of a percentage point compared to February's revised jobless rate of 10.9 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Cohen Robertson. Last year's March unemployment rate was 14.3 percent.

The 10.3 percent unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 8.1 percent national rate for March. Mississippi Employment Security Commission figures showed 106,300 unemployed and 921,500 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,027,800. The initial unemployment insurance claims totalled 15,529 in March.

Forty-seven of the state's 82 counties had unemployment rates of 10.0 percent or higher in March. Of that number four counties had unemployment rates above 20.0 percent.

The counties having the highest unemployment rates in March were Sharkey, with 22.1 percent; Jefferson, with 21.7 percent; Tunica, with 21.6 percent, and Marion, with an unemployment rate of 21.1 percent.

Rankin, Desota, Pontotoc, and Hinds counties had the lowest jobless rates in March. Rankin had a rate of 5.9 percent, Desota had a rate of 6.4 percent, Pontotoc had a rate of 6.7 percent, and Hinds had an employment rate of 6.8 percent.

Sixty-four counties showed a decrease in their unemployment rates from February to March, while 15 counties reported increases. The unemployment rate in three counties, Benton, Copiah, and Lowndes was unchanged.

Tax credit program offered to summer worker employers

Summertime is almost here, and that means young people will soon be out looking for summer jobs.

In an effort to help improve the youth employment picture by giving employers an incentive to hire young people, the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 established qualified summer youth employees as a target group in the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program.

This tax credit can be a real money-saver for Mississippi employers. Through the program, an employer can get a tax credit of 85 percent on the first $3,000 paid to an eligible summer worker. This could amount to a savings of up to $2,500 for each eligible summer youth hired.

Last summer, many Mississippi employers realized a 'bottom line' savings in their tax bills by using the credits available through the tax credit program.

Under the program, a qualified summer youth employee is someone who starts to work after April 30, 1984, works any 90 consecutive day period between May 1 and Sept. 15, 1984, has not previously worked for the employer, and is certified by the Mississippi State Employment Service (Job Service) prior to starting work.

Employers who participated in the program last year may participate in it again this year; however, they may not claim a tax credit on any young employee who has previously worked for them, a jobs service spokesman says.

Employers interested in finding out more about the tax credit program should contact their local Employment Service office.

Military Mention

CAPT. GRIFFON
Army Capt. Michael G. Griffon, son of Hugh W. and Catherine C. Griffon of 107 E. Scenic Drive, Pass Christian, has arrived for duty in Schwabach-Gmuend, West Germany.

Griffon, a public affairs officer with the 56th Field Artillery Brigade, was previously assigned at Fort Polk, La.

His wife, Sarah, is the daughter of Mary W. Wilson of Theodore, Ala.

The captain is a 1969 graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg.

HOW MUCH ADVERTISING IS ENOUGH ADVERTISING?

That's a question our industry has been pondering for years.

And, to be perfectly truthful, it's a question that's almost impossible to answer to anybody's—if not everybody's—satisfaction.

Some people would say that NO advertising is more than enough, thank you.

But if it weren't for advertising, local and network TV and radio would no longer be free. Newspaper prices would skyrocket from pennies a day to dollars a day. Only the wealthiest people would ever have a chance to see magazines.

You see, advertising pays most of the costs of all the media you enjoy and upon which you depend for news and entertainment.

Advertising creates interest in products and services, from necessities to extravagant luxuries. Without that interest, there'd be fewer products and services to enjoy. If you say our society can live with fewer products and services, are you ready to pay massive tax increases to support all the people who'd be suddenly unemployed?

A world with no advertising at all is a totally impractical concept if we want to maintain the standard of living we've come to enjoy.

On the other hand, too much advertising drives people away from the media. When that happens, advertising can no longer create interest because nobody sees it. No interest in products and services means fewer sales and fewer jobs.

Don't get us wrong.

We're not saying the amount of advertising you're currently exposed to is just the right amount. Our entire industry is still arguing among ourselves as to whether we've found the right formula.

The current system allows the media—all media—to bring you the news and entertainment you demand and make a fair profit.

Whether you like that system or not is really up to you.

You're the ones with the money that buys the products.

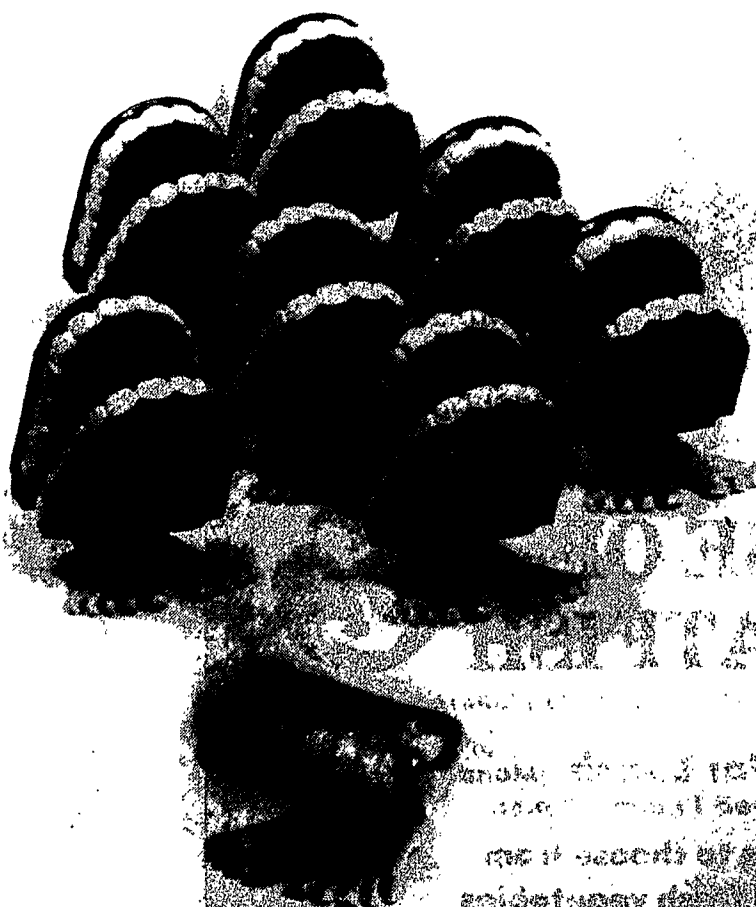

You're the ones with the subscriptions.

You're the ones with the on/off switch.

You're the ones with the real teeth.

ADVERTISING

We bring a world of good things to you.

This ad has been brought to you by the service of the Greater Jackson Advertising Club, The Mississippi Press Association, The Mississippi Broadcast Association, The Mississippi Outdoor Advertising Association, and The Mississippi Association of Advertising Agencies.

Three public hearings slated on kindergartens

The State Department of Education will hold three public hearings in May on early childhood education programs. The hearings, May 7 in Grenada, May 8 in Jackson and May 10 in Hattiesburg, are on proposed criteria and guidelines for kindergartens.

Persons unable to attend one of the hearings may review the proposed criteria and guidelines at any public school superintendent's office. Written responses should be addressed to: Early Childhood Coordinator, Division of Instruction, State Department of Education, Box 771, Jackson, MS 39205.

Kelly Cremer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Cremer of Bay St. Louis, will travel to France in June to spend four weeks living with a French family.

The exchange program is sponsored by Nacel Cultural Exchanges, a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is to promote international friendship and understanding.

Arrangements for the French homestay were coordinated by David and Debbie Mathews of Monroe, La.

While in France Cremer will participate in the daily activities of the host family and will experience first hand life in a foreign culture. The exchange program is not a sightseeing trip but provides an opportunity to learn about a country and its heritage.

Cremer will also be expected to serve as a student ambassador to the host country, to offer those whom she contacts a realistic appraisal of U.S. culture and customs and to demonstrate the highest ideals of American teens.

Students are selected to participate in the program on the basis of interest in French culture and customs and the ability to communicate at a basic level in French.

They must be recommended by their French teachers and receive positive evaluations by teachers and counselors.

Many French students also look forward to spending four weeks in the United States with an American family. Anyone wishing to host a French teenager from July 15 to Aug. 11 may contact David and Debbie Mathews at 36 Lake Drive, Monroe, La. 71203, telephone (318)343-4890.

honorable mention recipients Linda Carver for medicine and health, Mark Smith for botany and Debbie Wharton for social and behavioral sciences. The first through fifth place winners will participate in the State Science Fair in Jackson. Gordon also received an Air Force award for first place achievement in her competition category. Ashman was designated an alternate for the International Science Fair to be in Mexico and also received a $150 scholarship to the University of Southern Mississippi where the district competition was conducted.

Fiddlers' convention revives old traditions

It used to be called 'devil's music,' thought to make men drink and follow wayward paths. But fiddle music is family entertainment now, sponsored by groups like the Kosciusko-Attala Chamber of Commerce in central Mississippi.

The organization has planned an 'Old Time Fiddler's Convention' for Friday, Apr. 27, in Kosciusko.

It is a revival of a musical tradition of the 1920s and '30s when hundreds of fiddlers, banjo pickers, mandolin players and country dancers from all over the South would gather in Kosciusko.

This year's music convention is part of the Natchez Trace Festival, which will feature arts and crafts, a foot race, a walk, and pipe-smoking and bake-off contests.

A total of $1,250 in prize money will be awarded to winners in fiddle, mandolin, banjo and buck dance competition. Buck dancing is Appalachian-style dancing commonly done to fiddle music.

The grand champion fiddler at the convention will receive the $250 Dave Atwood Award, named in honor of a life-long Attala County resident who frequented the old conventions and was well known for his square dance calling and dancing abilities.

Assisting the chamber of commerce with the event is the University of Mississippi's Center for the Study of Southern Culture. Frank Childrey, himself a guitar and mandolin player, will judge the contests, along with fiddle champion Billy Mitchell of Tupelo.

Dr. Childrey, a senior staff writer at the center, is president of the Jimmie Rodgers Memorial Association and producer of Living Blues magazine.

Fiddle music is among the oldest musical traditions in America.

The convention will be held at the Attala County Coliseum on Highway 12 East in Kosciusko. Registration and informal jamming is at 6 p.m. with the contest itself beginning at 7 p.m.

Admission for the public is $2.50 for adults and $1 for children.

UM paleomagnetist studies magnetism, continental drift

He is a man who lives with great mass and movement, a world where continents float like islands above a layer of molten heat, where 10,000 years is the blink of an eye, where earth tremors foretell disasters too horrible to imagine.

The place is earth. The man is Dr. Larry Schatts, an assistant professor of geology and geological engineering at The University of Mississippi.

As a paleomagnetist, Dr. Schatts is an expert in measuring the drifting of continents over the face of the earth by studying the magnetism in rocks that are nearly three billion years old.

Until recent years the idea of continental drift seemed far-fetched, built around the simple notion that some continents looked as if they could all fit together in a kind of giant puzzle.

Subsequent discoveries have not only enhanced the credibility of the theory, but have pointed out the mechanisms by which the continents ride continue to destroy themselves on one side and re-create themselves on the other.

While earning degrees at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (M.I.T.) and the University of Toronto, Dr. Schatts delved into the fine details of measuring the magnetism in North American rocks up to 2.7 billion years old.

"It's very complex very complicated," he said, "because of chemical alterations in the rocks. It's not nearly so simple as working with a nice basalt that was just extruded 10,000 years ago."

Built around the idea of continental drift and the existence of ancient supercontinents, a growing body of knowledge and fascinating theories have been constructed by researchers like Dr. Schatts.

When igneous rocks cool to temperatures below 580 degrees centigrade, their magnetism points toward the north magnetic pole. The current positions of the earth's magnetic poles are about the same as the geographic poles, but the magnetic poles are believed to switch polarity, north for south, every 10,000 to 600,000 years, said Dr. Schatts.

In rocks of the oceanic crust, magnetic stripes of alternating polarity have been found to be symmetrically distributed about mid-ocean trenches. But the pattern of stripes is disrupted at the various deep-sea trenches which border the oceans.

Magnetism of continental rocks is much more complex, but suggests a steady wander of the magnetic pole positions throughout geological time.

"It has actually been the continents themselves which have moved," said Dr. Schatts. "We're floating piggyback on 70-kilometer-thick lithospheric plates, which are moving in response to long-term convection currents in the partially molten upper mantle just beneath them."

"The continental and oceanic crusts are simply the upper portion of the plates. The magnetic evidence suggests that the lithosphere is created from mantle material at the ocean ridges, which moves laterally away from the ridges and ultimately dives down into the upper mantle again at the trenches."

"Actually, only lithosphere topped by oceanic crust can move down the trenches," he explained.

"Continental crust is far less dense than the underlying material. It simply won't go down. If plate movement brings two continents together, the resulting collision produces folded mountain ranges and the end of tectonic activity."

"The Himalayas," said Dr. Schatts, "were probably created by a collision between India and Asia."

The Ole Miss paleomagnetist and other scientists continue to refine their methods of measuring magnetism. "We're gaining more confidence all the time," he said. "We can even determine how old rocks are by determining the relative position of the north pole at the time the rocks were formed."

Now in the process of setting up laboratory research equipment at Ole Miss, Dr. Schatts will continue his magnetism studies and also expects to do some work in gravitation and in remote sensing.

The latter project, to be conducted by the Mississippi Mineral Resources Institute, will involve studying sensory maps of Mississippi to determine likely locations for oil and gas deposits.

In the meantime there are always mysteries to consider in the study of ancient earth and how it is still changing. Notably, geologists are puzzled by a sudden intrusion of magma (molten rock) in Arkansas which began in 1982. "One wonders why this is happening after many years of dormancy. The region isn't near a plate boundary like some of the more active areas on the West Coast," he said.

"It is possible that we are dealing with a hot spot on the earth's mantle."

The mantle, or mantelrock, is that part of the earth's interior which lies beneath the crust and above the central core.

Interpretation of seismic waves in the Mid-South is difficult, said Dr. Schatts, because the ancient structures uncovered by millions of years of sediments -- unlike the West where many rock structures remain exposed to the surface.

Can the Mid-South expect an earthquake, especially from the New Madrid fault zone in Missouri?

"Any place on the earth's surface is susceptible to these readjustments, these releases of energy along fault planes," he said. "Some places, of course, are much more susceptible than others."

From New Madrid, he noted, quakes reaching eight points on the Richter scale can be expected to occur perhaps every 600 years or so, but that isn't very precise.

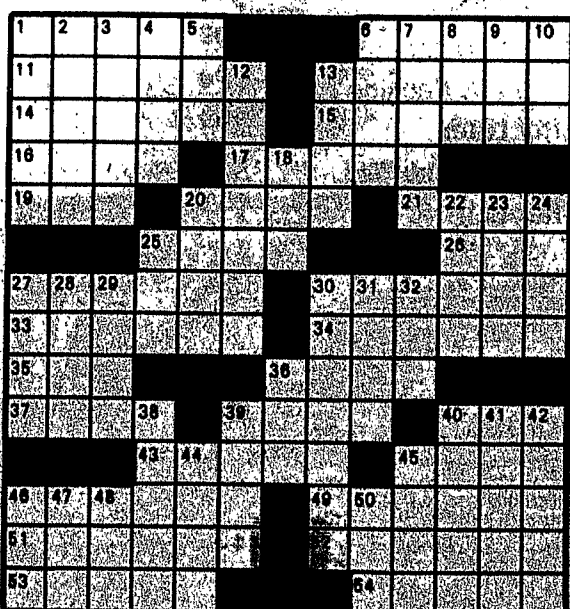

The area was hit by an 8.6 quake on Dec. 16, 1811; with a second, measuring 8.4, on the following Jan. 23; and a third on Feb. 7 estimated at 8.7 to 8.8 which awakened Thomas Jefferson at Monticello and rang church bells in Washington.

The infamous San Francisco quake of 1906 measured 8.25. A recent 7.1 quake in Turkey killed more than 2,000.

Dr. Schatts does not predict great catastrophes. The earth does as it will, at its own pace. But the New Madrid area, in which the country's most powerful earthquake was recorded, is much more heavily populated and developed now than in the 1811 pioneer days, he notes.

Utility company reports:

Fleet Watch program initiated in Bay, Pass

Mississippi Power Co. has initiated a Fleet Watch program on the Gulf Coast to help law enforcement officials in Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Long Beach, Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis detect criminal activities, a company spokesman reports.

Gulfport Police Department Assistant Chief George Payne says the fleet watch will involve Mississippi Power employees in company vehicles acting as extra eyes and ears for law enforcement agencies.

agencies.

Payne, who likened the program to a neighborhood watch, says, "We appreciate Mississippi Power's support of our law enforcement agencies. Crime is something we should all be concerned with and this program should help make our neighborhoods safer."

Paul DeNicola, Mississippi Power Gulfport District general manager, says, "If an employee suspects a criminal act in the area he or she is working in, the employee uses the vehicle's radio to report the suspicious activity."

"We don't try to apprehend criminals and we're not out accusing anyone of crime. We're just trying to help the police by being aware of possible crimes," DeNicola says. "Mississippi Power is concerned for its customers and we hope that our involvement in the fleet watch program will help the law enforcement agencies in our service area deter crime."

The Gulfport-based utility has a fleet watch program in operation in Pascagoula, Moss Point and Meridian and is planning to implement the program in Hattiesburg and Laurel later this year.

The company is a member of the Southern electric system and serves more than 163,000 customers in 23 southeast Mississippi counties.

Get two gardeners together for a discussion of their favorite hobby and the subject of composting will come up. Proponents swear by the results from homemade compost applications, plus the low cost and satisfaction of doing it yourself. Opponents say "too messy," "too smelly," and "way too much trouble."

You have to decide for yourself. One of the big advantages is that organic materials will change a soil that's too heavy with clay or too sandy into rich garden loam. It will enrich soil and make for bigger yields. It uses waste materials for the most part and compost is easy to produce. Millions of gardeners think these reasons outweigh the "too messy," "too smelly," etc. excuses.

All compost material has to be arranged so that bacteria can thrive and multiply as they break it down. Bacteria need moisture, air and food. To begin, select an area for your compost heap away from the garden itself and hopefully, hidden from eyes. The compost heap is useful, but it is not considered a thing of beauty.

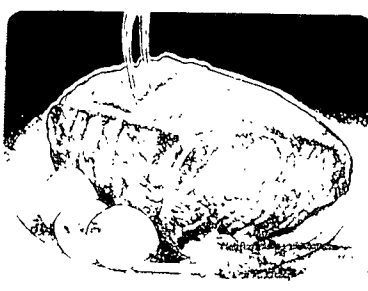

You can simply begin on the ground, or you can make bins or a fenced or staked area. Ideally, you need three piles: one for waste products (the daily grist of vegetable material from the kitchen, waste, plant clippings and prunings, even shredded paper), one for working material like grass clippings, vines, weeds and other garden discards, and one for the finished product. To the first two piles, you add slow to decompose materials like leaves, wood and ashes. Turn the first two frequently. Shredding speeds the process, so try to rent a shredder, or borrow one from a composting neighbor.

Build the compost pile in layers through the summer months, adding more "garbage," (kitchen waste), and clippings from time to time. Turn the material frequently to allow air and moisture to do its work. Consult a nursery or garden center expert about what should be added to make your compost rich and fruitful for fall garden use.

Garden planning necessary

By Dr. Milo Burnham
Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Successful gardening depends on complete planning, from site preparation to harvest.

Planning includes selecting the garden site, choosing vegetables and deciding how much of each to grow.

It's a good idea to draw your plan on paper. Your plan should include the location of each vegetable, planting dates, length of row of each vegetable and what is to follow when each vegetable is harvested.

Help in planning your garden is available through your county Extension office. The Extension Service has developed a computer program that can tell you how much of each vegetable to plant if you can answer a few basic gardening questions.

And, you can decide how frequently you want to eat each vegetable. Forms for the computer planning service are available at county Extension offices.

Your garden's size may influence your site choice. In choosing garden size, consider family size, amount of vegetables needed and whether you plan to eat only fresh vegetables or can or freeze.

Take into account the amount of work a garden needs and your genuine interest in gardening. It's better to start small and build on success.

Consider growing a mini-garden or a containerized garden if space is limited. Few, if any, vegetables are suitable to grow indoors without special lighting.

Plant only vegetables your family likes to eat. Avoid overplanting; cabbage, lettuce, radishes and squash are frequently overplanted. Available garden space also determines choice of vegetables to grow.

Some take a lot of space for a long time and produce little: vining melons, squash, pumpkins and sweet corn. These don't belong in a small garden.

Small gardens need vegetables with high yield per plant space: bush snap beans, bush lima beans, Southern Peas, leafy greens, tomatoes and bell pepper. Six tomato and bell pepper plants will provide enough for a family of four.

As the garden size increases, add three or four egg plant; one or two hot pepper plants and a short row of okra. Six bush-type summer squash will provide plenty for fresh use, and a short trellis of pole lima beans will produce until frost.

Plant recommended varieties. Too many gardeners use old varieties. New varieties are disease resistant, high yielding and of better quality.

Fusarium wilt, for example, is still a major problem on tomatoes in Mississippi gardens where older varieties are planted. Recommended varieties are resistant to this disease.

"The amount of sunlight your garden receives will help determine which vegetables to grow," Burnham said. "Ideal garden sites receive full sun all day, but this isn't always possible."

Where there is not full sun, use this rule of thumb in locating vegetables—vegetables grown for their fruits or seeds should have the sunniest spots; vegetables grown for leaves or roots are less demanding of total sun and can grow in partial shade.

gave up her career again and went to live with him in Nairobi.

She was widowed a second time, but stayed on in Nairobi where she hosted a radio show about her passion: opera, but returned to the United States in 1975 to resume her career in New York. She decided to escape the cold winters in 1978 and moved to Los Angeles.

NEW FOUND FAME — "People have always thought they knew me," she smiles. "Were you ever a missionary or 'Do I look familiar to you?' Now they call me Mildred. It's nice to be recognized. It's hard, I'm sure when you're a Paul Newman, because then there is no privacy."

She keeps very trim by working out on a trapeze and she demonstrated her skill during a Merv Griffin Show. "The body is really not bad. If they could have cut my head off," she laughs.

She tells how a cinema-tographer came to her on the After MASH set, pointed to her neck and under her chin and said "That's a small flaw."

Barbara adds, "I went to Durr Metcalfe, the show's producer and creator and asked if I should have something done and he said 'Don't you dare!'"

See? Success hasn't happened with a few wrinkles and gray hair.

PRC trustees approve $10 tuition increase

Pearl River College's Board of Trustees approved a $10 per semester increase in tuition and a seven percent increase in room and board fees at its regular April meeting.

Students attending Pearl River College this fall will now pay $200 per semester in tuition and $570 for a five-day meal ticket.

A seven-day meal ticket will cost $653, instead of this past year's $612 total.

Book rental for the fall semester will remain $30.

The total cost for a student living in a dormitory at PRC this fall with a five-day meal ticket will cost $800.

This total will still be less than half the cost of attending a Mississippi university.

Dr. Marvin R. White, president of Pearl River College, told the board that the increase was necessary for the college to remain in the black financially next year.

He also said Pearl River's tuition would still be on the low side of the junior college tuition scale here in Mississippi. The scale is from a low of $190 per semester to $350 per semester.

The PRC governing group also approved business manager Ron Holmes' request to transfer $334,171 from the PRC Building Fund to two accounts.

A transfer of $434,171 was made to the "Multi-Purpose Building Account" for the addition to the Forrest County Center and another $400,000 was transferred to the "Pearl River Hall Renovation Account" for the renovation of the dorm here.

The board's Building Committee reported that work has already started on the 20,000 square foot facility at the Forrest County Center and they also recommended to advertise for bids to renovate Pearl River Hall.

The committee and board approved the plans and specifications of the dormitory renovation which was prepared by architect Fred Wagner.

The PRC Board gave Holmes permission to advertise for bids for the removal and replacing of asbestos here on campus.

President White gave a report from Hall-Kimbrell Environmental Services, Inc. from Kansas City, Kansas for the total estimated cost to be free of friable asbestos.

"They could not believe we had such a small amount of asbestos covering," Dr. White told the board. "We should be free of the friable asbestos for less than $14,000."

The board also approved new admission requirements for the 1984-85 school year and the March Claim Docket of $388,592.

Inkol addresses Pass students

Dr. D.J. Inkol was guest speaker at recent Balance classes of Pass Christian and DeLisle Elementary Schools.

Inkol, a local chiropractor, presented an introduction to the nervous system and other systems of the body.

The students were then given the opportunity to ask questions concerning the body.

Inkol also explained his profession and the steps he had to take to become a chiropractor.

The Balance class is a newly formed class for gifted and talented students in the Pass Christian Municipal Separate School District.

It consists of gifted and talented students in grades 2, 3, and 4 at Pass Christian and DeLisle Elementary Schools.

This year there are 23 students being served. The class is being taught by Debra Robbins.

Each student is receiving instruction in decision making skills, research skills, and divergent thinking skills.

Creative problem solving, logical thinking, and critical thinking skills are developed through individual and group activities.

Joan Crosby's
TV PARADE

THIRD TIME AROUND — Barbara Townsend is a tall, slim, gracious, and cheerful lady who is finding the fame that only a successful TV series can bring, after twice retiring from acting.

She is playing Mildred Potter on CBS-TV's AfterMASH, a character spoken of frequently during the M*A*S*H years.

Barbara however, was unaware of the character of Mildred, and not too aware of M*A*S*H because she was living in Nairobi, Kenya for many of those years.

She grew up wanting to be an actress, and after attending Miss Ransom and Miss Bridges School for Girls and the University of California at Berkeley, she went to New York to pursue acting.

She then met a Navy man, married him, mothered a daughter and was widowed when he was killed in the Atlantic theater during World War II. Ironically, he was stationed aboard the USS Arizona, which was sunk on Pearl Harbor Day, but he was off-duty that day and not aboard the doomed ship.

She had retired from acting when she married, but after she was widowed, she returned to acting, working a lot in New York on radio, television and the Broadway stage.

She married a doctor in 1959 and when her husband decided to retire in 1969, she

DRUG QUIZ

By Curt Scarborough, Ph.D.
Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.

QUESTION - The Food and Drug Administration warned recently that interaction between prescribed drugs and alcoholic beverages can cause adverse effects in patients who are occasional or moderate drinkers as well as chronic alcoholics. "Of the 100 most frequently prescribed drugs, more than half contain at least one ingredient known to interact adversely with alcohol," according to the FDA Drug Bulletin.

How many deaths per year are due to mixing alcohol and prescribed drugs?

- 250
- 2,500
- 25,000
- 250,000

ANSWER - Many effects of alcohol-drug interaction are related to dosage, especially for medications that affect the central nervous system or are metabolized by the liver. The FDA Drug Bulletin points out that most adverse effects due to alcohol-drug interaction are accidental, but "the medical toll is high, including an estimated 2,500 deaths a year and 47,000 emergency room admissions a year."

Correct answer - b.

For further information about alcohol and drug abuse write: Dr. Paul G. Jones, II, Executive Director, Christian Action Commission, P.O. Box 530, Jackson, MS 39205.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Removal of Hazard to Navigation at Port of Bienville, Hancock County, Mississippi - M/V CAPTAIN HARGROVE.
Approximately five (5) years ago, the M/V CAPTAIN HARGROVE, a 110 x 29 foot, wooden-hulled tugboat, sank and was abandoned in the entrance to the Bienville River. The boat has been hit several times and larger tow boats kept from using the turning basin due to the sunken vessel's location.
Removal of this obstruction under the provisions of Section 19 of the River and Harbor Act of 1899 (33 U.S.C. 414) will be undertaken. The vessel shall be subject to be broken up, removed, sold or otherwise disposed of without liability for any damage to the owners of the same. The owner is advised that the wreck will be removed by the United States with the reservation of all rights of the United States to recover from the owner all expenses of removal.

VARIETY SHOW
Bay Junior High Glee Club is presenting its fourth annual variety show—Music In My Life—Friday, April 27 at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. Admission for students, 50 cents; adults, $1.

DANGER: Child Playing!

No, this isn't a street sign. It's a reminder that some toys can be dangerous to children.

Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, reminds parents that children are imitators and experimenters. Not only do they imitate their parents, they are continually experimenting with their toys—poking, pulling, prying, pinching.

Some stuffed animals, for instance, have cute button eyes that pull off easily, exposing the sharp points which fasten them on.

These points sometimes do not look like staples, but are just pushed in like a double-point thumb tack.

This type of stuffed animal is apt to be found in souvenir shops or sold at carnivals. They are attractive to children, and are frequently a casual or spur-of-the-moment gift. Avoid them—or inspect them carefully.

Children are rough on toys.

They experiment by dragging them, banging them, and sitting on them. Avoid anything with sharp or rough edges that will cut or scratch.

Also avoid toys or objects with small removable parts that can be swallowed or pushed into an ear or nose. No one knows why a child will push a small object up his nose—perhaps just because it's there, the object is handy, and it happens to fit.

If a toy is painted or has painted decorations, be sure that the paint is non-toxic. Imported toys, especially those from Mexico, may use lead-based paints, and eating paint chips has resulted in lead poisoning.

Decorative beads, beans, or seeds may also be poisonous. Some plastic toys may be flammable if exposed to heat.

So what are desirable toys? For infants: Bright, colorful toys in many shapes, sizes, textures, and weights. Noisy rattles to shake; unbreakable mirrors to look into; soft balls, blocks, and puppets to hold; hard rubber or unbreakable plastic objects to teethe on.

For preschoolers: Books! A sandbox with bucket, shovel, and spoon. (For indoors, a "rice box" using whole grain unprocessed rice is easier to clean up!)

Large pegboard and pegs and puzzles for coordination skills. Wooden animals, cars, and vehicles. A sturdy wagon. A "walk-around" kiddie car. Large crayons, paint, lots of paper. A rocking horse.

For school age children: Books, books, books! Hardwood blocks, a small chair and table. Board games. Musical instruments, microscopes, kaleidoscopes, telescopes! Arts and crafts supplies.

Growing Child has a catalog of unique educational toys, books and records for children from birth to six years old, with a few items for older children. To obtain copy, send $1 to Catalog, P.O. Box 620, Lafayette, Indiana 47902.

UNO summer registration schedules announced

Application deadlines for admission as an undergraduate or graduate student to the University of New Orleans for the 1984 summer semester have been announced by the UNO Office of Admissions and Records.

They are: May 1, last day to apply without a late charge ($25 for undergraduate; $30 for graduate admissions in addition to regular $10 admission fee); June 6, final day for all but straight re-entry students to submit applications; June 13, final date for straight re-entry students to apply. Straight re-entry students are those who have had no other college enrollment since they last attended UNO.

UNO's summer registration is scheduled June 7-8 with classes beginning June 11. The summer class schedules are now available in the UNO Bookstore.

For further admission information call the UNO Office of Admissions and Records at 286-6595 or the Graduate Admissions Office at 286-6676.

SCHOLARSHIP

Eric W. Piernas, a senior at Pass Christian High, has been chosen to receive a Trustee's Award from Livingston (Ala.) University, according to Ervin L. Wood, vice-president for admissions services.

The Trustee's Award, part of the scholarship program at Livingston University, was awarded to Piernas for his outstanding academic performance in high school and above average college entrance examination grades.

Ramsay, former circuit clerk, has helped raise more than $50,000 for scholarships during his tenure as Jackson County scholarship chairman. Entertainment will be by the Jefferson Davis Ensemble under the direction of Adam Ortiz.

GCJC to honor three Instructors of The Year

Instructors of the Year from the three campuses of Gulf Coast Junior College will be honored at a dinner on Friday, at 6:30 p.m. in the Jefferson Davis cafeteria.

The annual spring event is hosted by the GCJC Alumni Association.

The instructors were chosen by students, faculty, administrators, and alumni of their respective campuses.

They are Robert C. Hudson, machine shop instructor, Jackson County Campus; Evelyn K. Alford, nursing instructor, Jefferson Davis Campus; and Wentz A. Batson, horticulture instructor, Perkinston Campus.

Campus vice presidents will present plaques to the instructors who were selected for their teaching abilities and service to the college and the community.

In addition to the instructors, Vertis G. Ramsay of Pascagoula will be recognized for his outstanding work in the alumni association.

Ramsay, former circuit clerk, has helped raise more than $50,000 for scholarships during his tenure as Jackson County scholarship chairman. Entertainment will be by the Jefferson Davis Ensemble under the direction of Adam Ortiz.

Stanford takes eight PR awards

Larry L. Stanford, director of public relations and recruiting at Pearl River College, won eight awards at the annual spring awards conference of the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi.

Stanford is past president of the organization which serves public relations and public information staffs of 35 Mississippi universities, junior colleges and state agencies.

The PRC director won four firsts, three seconds, and one third place. During the past eight years, Stanford has won 80 association awards, including 30 firsts, 23 seconds, 21 thirds and six honorable mentions.

Stanford won first place this year in radio, TV, magazine design and black and white photography. He has won the photography award eight straight years.

Second place awards were for news writing, magazine article and special events promotion. The third place award was for poster design.

"These awards are actually for the PRC public relations department," Stanford said. "Without the dedication and professionalism of Margaret Boone, PRD's printer and Beth Saucier, who assists in PR and recruiting tasks, these awards would not have been possible."

DOUBLE
COUPON
SAVINGS

WITH A MINIMUM
OF $5 NON-COUPON PURCHASE.

Clip coupons from your mail, magazines and newspapers... then bring them to Jitney Jungle for DOUBLE COUPON SAVINGS!

Redeem manufacturers' "cents-off" coupons by buying the items and we will DOUBLE the value stated on the coupons, with a minimum $5 non-coupon purchase. Our "DOUBLE SAVINGS" applies to manufacturers' coupons you clip from newspapers and magazines — not "free", tobacco, or other retailers' coupons. The only exceptions are listed below:

- 1 We will redeem DOUBLE the value of manufacturers' coupons up to 50¢. Coupons over 50¢ will be redeemed for $1. Coupons over $1 will be redeemed at face value.
- 2 Only one coffee coupon (including vacuum and instant) may be doubled per order.
- 3 If the double coupon value exceeds the retail price of the item, you will receive the item free, with no cash refund.
- 4 One coupon per item will be redeemed for double the value. All others will be redeemed at face value.
- 5 No more than ten coupons will be doubled unless the total purchase of non-coupon items exceeds $25.
